

Transcript Summary:

Here are the main points from the transcript in English:

- * US President Donald Trump has given a direct warning to India, stating that if a trade deal is not reached between the two countries soon, India may face tariffs of up to 25% on its imports.
- * Trump made this statement on July 29, and when asked if the tariff would be between 20% and 25%, he replied "yes" and emphasized the 25% figure.
- * This warning comes just days before the August 1 deadline set by the US for imposing tariffs.
- * The US and India have been in trade talks for several months, but have yet to reach a final agreement.
- * Trump has been pushing for greater access to the Indian market for American products, but negotiations have been stalled due to disagreements in certain sectors.
- * The US has also imposed tariffs on Indian products, and India has retaliated with its own tariffs.
- * Trump's statement suggests that India could be the next target for US tariffs if a deal is not reached.
- * The US has set an August 1 deadline for imposing tariffs, which is being considered a "hard deadline" that will not be extended further.
- * If a deal is not reached, the US will have to start imposing tariffs on Indian imports after the deadline.
